Pulak Debasish Prusty

I'm a passionate Google Certified Android Developer who strives be at the top of the game. That pursuit keeps me going everyday and keeps me pushing to learn something new every day. Apart from my day job, I also mentor and review projects for students at Udacity and work on my personal projects whenever I get time. I've interned both as an Android Developer and mentor and I love teaching and helping others. I have a strong grit to learn, grow my skills and solve challenging problems every day.
