Pulak Debasish Prusty

I'm a final year B.Tech student having a great interest in Android Development. I'm currently working on a music player app to release on Play Store. I started learning all by myself and soon entered freelancing and completed 3 small projects which gave me an important experience I needed. I have been a mentor for Android and Java courses at Internshala as part of my internship. I have a strong grit to learn and develop my skills while working with like-minded people in collaboration.
